

Printable Beat Cube

This beat cube, a twist on a song cube, is a great tool to have on hand in your library. It includes different ways to produce a beat:

- Clap hands loudly
- Clap hands quietly
- Tap legs with hands
- Tap sticks together (craft sticks or chopsticks work well)
- Stomp feet
- Dance

You'll need:

1. One empty tissue box cube
2. Construction paper for covering the cube
3. Labels for each side (see next page for printable labels)

Cover the empty tissue box with the construction paper. Print out the labels on the next page, cut out, and attach one to each side of the cube.

The cube can be paired with a nursery rhyme or song picture book as a fun way to get kids up and moving during story time. Have them take turns rolling the cube to see how they'll make a beat!
